Location

Kansai Region

Kansai is Japan's second largest urban region following the Tokyo metropolitan area. The region includes Hyogo prefecture, where Kwansai Gakuin University is located, as well as the prefectures of Osaka, Kyoto, Nara, Shiga and Wakayama. Kansai is home to a number of ancient capitals, and rich in historic architecture and cultural assets designated as national treasures, making the region ideal for learning about Japanese culture.

Nishinomiya

Nishinomiya city is located in the south-east of Hyogo prefecture, from Osaka Gulf Coast on the south end to the north side of Mt. Rokko on the north end. It has a population of 480,000 and is therefore a suburban city by Japanese standards. It is located midway between Osaka and Kobe and has been developed as an "educational residential district" by taking advantage of the convenient location and rich natural environment.

Nishinomiya is home to the professional baseball team, Hanshin Tigers and to high school baseball players' sacred site, Hanshin Koshien Stadium. Nishinomiya is also famous for its sake brewery district and many cake factories.

Kobe

Located a short train ride from KGU's main campus, Kobe city is renowned as a modern and sophisticated city in Western Japan where various cultures blended to create a unique atmosphere. Historically, the city opened to the world as an international port in 1868, following the lifting of Japan's nearly 230-year-long isolation policy. Merchants and traders from around the world have chosen to base their operations in the city, which now is home to a large number of foreign residents, living side-by-side with Japanese in mutual respect. Thanks to this somewhat unexpected melting pot, Kobe is especially open to various faiths; Christian churches, Jewish synagogues, and Muslim mosques can all be found in Kobe.

Takarazuka

Takarazuka city is adjacent to the north of Nishinomiya city, and some of KGU's dormitories. Mukogawa River runs through the center of the city, and beside the river, Takarazuka Hot Spring resort offers relaxation for both residents and visitors. The city's best renowned attraction is the Takarazuka Revue, a performing theater company with all-female casts. As they bring large crowds to the city and their performance has a reputation second to none, the name Takarazuka is widely known throughout Japan with international fans as well.

Local touristic attractions

Koshien Stadium

The Koshien Stadium is the home ground of the Hanshin Tigers baseball team, one of Japan's oldest and most beloved baseball teams. It is also the venue for the National Collegiate American Football Championship (Koshien Bowl), in which the KGU American Football Club has claimed the title 33 times, including the last five years.

Takarazuka Revue

The Takarazuka Revue was founded in 1913 by Hankyu Railway founder Ichizo Kobayashi in order to attract passengers. It is a unique theatrical company as all its members are single women. They take pride in its long history, and enthusiastic supporters and patrons come to watch the show from across the country.

Nishinomiya Jinja Shrine

The Nishinomiya Jinja Shrine is the head shrine of the Ebisu sect of Shinto. The Ebisu festival is celebrated every January and the "Lucky Man Race", in which participants race to the main shrine and the first three persons to reach it are named the "Luckiest Men of the year", is its main attraction.

Kobe Beef

Kobe Beef is a prized Japanese delicacy and probably the most widely-known regional specialty food in Japan. Many steak restaurants offering tenderloin cooked in teppanyaki style can be found around Sannomiya Station.

Japanese Language Track

Elshanni Pia MULLER
 [Heinrich Heine University
 Dusseldorf
 Germany]

"After spending one year at Kwansai Gakuin University I can proudly say that the Contemporary Japan Program I participated in has shown itself to be the best decision of my life.

Because of my Japanese studies at my home university in Germany, I chose the Japanese Language Track and it helped improve my Japanese fluency immensely.

Teachers were focused on each student's needs and I really appreciated the numerous discussions and presentations we held in class. Through those courses, I realized that Japanese was more than just learning from a book and learned to express myself and make presentations in a foreign language.

I made friends with many other exchange students and with my Japanese teachers, with whom I still keep in touch to this day. The relationship between the university's staff and the students is very cordial and it helped me a lot growing professionally and personally.

For everybody out there who is thinking about an exchange year at KGU and the Japanese Language Track, the more effort you invest into your studies, the more you will get back. So at least do your homework and I am sure you will not regret your stay at Kwansai Gakuin University."

Modern Japan Track

Raya Angela Ermita NAZARIO
 [Ateneo de Manila University
 Philippines]

"I chose the Modern Japan Track for two reasons: the first was because a lot of my classes could be credited for my majors back home in the Philippines, and the second is my genuine interest in Japanese culture and society. During my time in KGU, I learned a lot about the psyche behind phenomena that are special to Japanese society – I learned about hikikomori (modern hermits) and otaku (hardcore anime and manga fans), Japanese food culture, their special legal system, and so much more. I thought I was knowledgeable on Japanese culture and society to begin with, but after taking all these classes I learned that I was merely only scratching the surface of it all. My advice to prospective students is to do your research; there is a class for everything regarding Japan at KGU. Just make sure that you read up on the class descriptions to make sure the coverage of the class is something you really want to study. Moreover, don't worry about the workload. Classes are only once a week, with a very manageable workload that is designed to help you maximize your learning on the topic."

Homestay

Maria Bingjie XU
 [Queen's University
 Canada]

"My homestay experience is in some way of a very special kind. To me, a former participant in KGU's summer program, this was an occasion of reunion for me and my host family, this time for a full year. What has made this experience truly special, nevertheless, is exactly the blessing of the ordinary, everyday life, where I have witnessed and participated in Japanese culture and lifestyle in its fullest. While being an absolute beginner in Japanese last year, I have gladly been able to stay in the "Japanese mode" this time and interact with every member of the family so much more. Through my host family, I got to meet all kinds of interesting people and listen to all kinds of Japanese, be it all levels of the local dialect or the male-female contrast in language usage. A single child in my own family, I have been thrilled by this opportunity of becoming the big sister of three lovely kids. In attending my host siblings' sports tournaments, volunteering at events hosted by my host mom's organization, and even helping at harvesting sweet potato in the countryside, I have literally been feeling like "growing up" for a second time.

As much as my host family have made my time in Japan such a life-changing experience and this country a second home to me, I hope, with my own efforts, I can one day make a difference in their lives as well."

Dormitory

Jaimee RULYANCICH
 [Murdoch University
 Australia]

"In the beautiful city of Takarazuka, just 40 minutes away from KGU is the dormitory I chose to stay at, International Residence V. This dormitory houses international students from every corner of the globe and is a great place to meet new people who are experiencing the same things as you. The atmosphere is very welcoming, and the managers and Resident Assistants (RA) did their best to make me feel included through monthly events organised by the RA's, and other things like chatting together in the common space. The reason I chose this dorm is because I thought it would be a great way to make new international friends and learn about the different lifestyles people live in their home country. Also, due to the fact that we have individual bedrooms, I had the option to either head to my room to relax, or to go to the common space to socialise. Sharing a dorm with 3 other people was really daunting because of potential language barriers and cultural differences, but with open lines of communication, I found it to be very rewarding. The location is also great. The dorm is only a 10-15 minute walk from the train station and the area around the station has supermarkets, restaurants, izakaya and karaoke. Getting to Osaka, Kobe and Kyoto is very easy and convenient with the Hankyu Line and the JR Line, perfect for making day trips.

I do not regret choosing Res. V and I have so many special memories of my time there. I hope future students are also able to create their own memories during their time at this dorm."

Japanese Language Track (JLT)

The Japanese Language Track (JLT) is for students who want to focus on their Japanese language studies. Students will be placed into levels based solely on the results of the Japanese Placement Test held before the start of each semester.

Students will be enrolled in mandatory Japanese Language Courses according to their level and will attend their courses five times per week. Mandatory courses focus on developing the students' four basic language skills: reading, writing, listening and speaking by grouping students with a similar Japanese language level.

In addition to the mandatory Japanese Language Courses, students will be required to enroll and attend a number of elective courses (see p.08 for details about course load). Elective courses include Elective Japanese Language Courses (p.09), Elective Intercultural Collaborative Learning Courses (p.09), Elective Japan Studies Courses (p.10) and Other Elective Courses (p.11-12).

Language Requirements for Japanese Language Track

- Japanese Language Requirement: Prospective exchange students must at least be able to fluently read, write and pronounce the Japanese Hiragana and Katakana phonetic scripts by the Japanese Placement Test.
- English Language Requirement: As a number of elective courses are taught in English, exchange students whose native language is not English are expected to have an English proficiency equivalent to a TOEFL iBT® score of 71 or higher. Students are not required to submit a certificate for English proficiency.

Japanese Placement Test and Japanese Language Course Level

JLT students must take the Japanese Placement Test held before the beginning of each semester. The Japanese Placement Test results will determine the level of mandatory Japanese Language Courses each student is to be enrolled in. This allows each student to acquire strong skills adapted to their current needs and consolidate their current weaknesses.

Modern Japan Track (MJT)

The Modern Japan Track (MJT) is for students who want to learn more about Japan through English-taught courses. Students will be placed into one of the two Modern Japan Seminar courses (to be announced during Orientation Week). In principle, students cannot request a change of placement.

The Modern Japan Seminar is held once a week and will focus on studying and understanding Japan from various viewpoints through a seminar-style English medium class.

In addition to their mandatory Modern Japan Seminar, students will be required to enroll and attend a number of elective courses (see p.08 for details about course load). Elective courses include Elective Japanese Language Courses (p.09), Elective Intercultural Collaborative Learning Courses (p.09), Elective Japan Studies Courses (p.10) and Other Elective Courses (p.11-12).

Message from the Modern Japan Track Coordinator

Associate Professor Matthias Hennings, Ph.D.

“In the Modern Japan Seminar, students will gain an understanding of contemporary Japan’s culture and society through engaging in discussions and activities on various topics related to contemporary Japan. Topics include issues such as food culture, religion, the employment and education system, international relations and natural disasters. The seminar also includes field trips where students can experience Japanese culture and society first hand and encompasses interactive classes and activities with Japanese students. Upon conclusion of the program, students will have a strong base to pursue further studies in their individual fields.”

“KG Buddies” are KGU degree seeking students who volunteer to support exchange students. They will help exchange students adjust to life in Japan and become their first friends at KGU.

For Students with a Strong Command of the Japanese Language

(Regular University Courses)

Accommodation Information

13

An incoming exchange student who qualifies for a KGU-arranged accommodation can apply for one of the two following options: Dormitory or Homestay. The Residence Center staff members will do their best to place each application in their accommodation of their preference.

Dormitory

Experience different cultures and build strong international friendships through living in a dormitory.

KGU places exchange students in various dormitories. The type of accommodation and location varies depending on the placement. Due to limited availability or duration of exchange, KGU may not be able to place students in their preferred dormitory. All dormitories provide exchange students with their own private room. The dormitory option is recommended for students who value personal space and independence.

What is provided in a private room ?

- Bedding, wardrobe, desk and chair
- Air-conditioner/heater
- Internet access

For details ▶

Facilities

Some of the dormitories have a bathroom and toilet inside the private room but most exchange students will have to share their bathroom, toilets and kitchen with other students.

Homestay

Gain an invaluable understanding of the modern Japanese family through a homestay experience.

Staying with a host family is a very effective way to learn Japanese culture and language. Becoming part of a Japanese family can be an amazing experience. However, it also means living in close quarters with a Japanese family, respecting each other and making compromises.

The homestay option is recommended for students who are extremely motivated in using the Japanese language every day and are highly adaptable.

What is provided in a homestay ?

- Bedding, wardrobe, desk and chair
- Meals (two meals on weekdays, three meals on weekends and Japanese National Holidays)
- Internet access (high-speed may not be available)

For details ▶

Remarks

The number of host families willing to welcome a long term student is declining and in the last couple of years, KGU has had difficulties finding suitable homestay placements for all students. When matching a student with a family, KGU takes into account the language skills (Japanese), dietary and health needs, and personal preferences of the student as well as the preferences and availability of the host family. As it is a complex process, KGU sometimes may not find a match and redirect a student to a dormitory.

The cost of a round-trip airfare to and from Japan or travel expenses for trips within Japan is not included below. Also, depending on where students are staying, transportation costs to and from the university may be required.

Scholarship Opportunities

Applying for scholarships through KGU While KGU does not offer any unique scholarships for exchange students, we recommend students to apply to external organizations. Such scholarships depend on the external organization's budget and KGU cannot guarantee the number of scholarships we will be allocated. As a whole, the number of scholarships has decreased in recent years. Prospective exchange students are not to assume that they will receive a scholarship and should therefore plan their budget accordingly.

Monthly stipend	▶ 60,000 – 80,000 JPY
Eligibility	▶ A foreign national entering Japan with a student visa. Japanese nationals are not eligible.
Conditions	▶ A student who has demonstrated a history of academic excellence and requires financial support.
How to apply	▶ Scholarship application documents should be sent to KGU along with the CJP application documents. Prospective exchange students should discuss their eligibility with their study abroad advisor at their home institution.

Applying to scholarships on your own Past participants have received other scholarships through corporations, national governments, and non-governmental organizations. KGU will support applications to these scholarships, but the solicitation and application to the scholarship are the responsibility of the student.

Support on Campus

Organizations for Exchange Students

Transition to life in Japan is probably not going to be as smooth as most expect and exchange students may face difficulties. But rest assured, KGU is proud of its support groups and organizations and take great care of international students.

Center for International Education and Cooperation (CIEC)

CIEC is the central coordinating office for all students, faculty, and staff coming to KGU or going abroad. CIEC actively promotes cooperation with international organizations such as the United Nation Volunteers sending student volunteers each year to developing countries in order to support development in various areas. KGU is the first Japanese university to carry out this project.

All administrative, academic and private matters regarding exchange students are dealt with through CIEC.

Orientation

A mandatory orientation of approximately one week will be held at the beginning of each semester, introducing new students to life in Japan and information on KGU.

Global Student Network (GS Network)

GS Network is a CIEC student organization supporting all international students including exchange students and promoting understanding among international and local students. The GS Network plans various intercultural events both on and off campus throughout the year, such as field trips to Kobe or Kyoto, and a sports festival. Members are all keen to learn about different cultures and are aware of the challenges that international students may encounter while in Japan. Exchange students should feel free to rely on them when needed.

On-Campus Medical and Mental Support

KGU Health Care Center

The KGU Health Care Center provides services in 6 different specialties and also has a referral service to major hospitals and clinics in the area. As members of the KGU community, exchange students have access to these services in the event of illness or injury.

KGU Counseling Room - Free Support

The KGU Counseling Room provides Japanese and English counseling to the entire KGU community, free of charge. Exchange students can make an appointment by email to discuss anxiety related to their study abroad or daily life. All counseling discussions are strictly confidential to protect the students' privacy.

Campus Life

Clubs and Circles

Exchange students are strongly encouraged to join student clubs or circles as this is the main method of connecting with Japanese students. The clubs or circles focus on a wide variety of activities from intramural sports to martial arts to music appreciation, calligraphy and wearing kimono. In principle, clubs tend to set stricter regulations than circles as some clubs compete in national championships representing KGU and require to meet daily for 2 to 4 hours. Exchange students who wish to join a club are urged to consider their time commitment and allocation in order to secure enough study time.

Example of KGU Student Clubs

Cultural Clubs and Circles

- Calligraphy ● Japanese Flower Arrangement
- Tea Ceremony ● Mixed Chorus etc.

Athletic Clubs and Circles

- Capoeira ● Fencing ● Kendo ● Sumo
- Hula Dance ● Volleyball etc.

Theater Club

Deniss LOSEVS

Latvia University
 Latvia

"I visited three different clubs and decided to join the Theater Club as it was the most welcoming to me.

We usually met three times a week. Apart from performance rehearsals, most of what we did felt like games and through these, we forged a great bond while also practicing acting skills. One of the biggest difficulties from the start was the language barrier as nobody could speak English. Luckily, my Japanese, though still basic, was good enough so we could understand each other to some extent. We are talking about the theater club after all – gesturing while explaining is what they do.

I first helped the club with stage and decoration preparations but as I got more comfortable, I tried my hand at acting for one of the yearly performances. I worked really hard on my acting part as I had to not only remember the lines of my character but act accordingly as well. Having a quiet voice and personality did not help but thankfully it went well.

I am glad I joined the Theater Club during my stay in KGU. This whole experience was a great opportunity to gain a better understanding of Japanese people. It also provided me with some Japanese speaking and listening practice. I had lots of fun during preparations, before and after performances, and I will bring back all those memories home with me."

Sumo Club

Nicolai KRAPOL

Friedrich-Alexander University
 Erlangen-Nurnberg
 Germany

"As I came to the Sumo Club room for the first time, I told the members in very bad Japanese – at this time I couldn't speak at all - that I wanted to join. Thanks to the kind and caring Sumo Club members, a week later, I was quite a normal member.

I got my own Mawashi, the traditional Sumo Wrestler pants, and joined practice four times a week, which always started with some warming workout related to the special way Sumo Wrestlers' move. I always got a good explanation of what to do, even though their English was very limited. Once we were done with workout, we would fight each other. I am grateful that the regular members always held back when fighting me as I was a beginner. I was so involved in the club that I even entered three tournaments during my time there.

Outside of practice, Sumo Club members would often hang out together. From outing before the tournaments to home parties during which members would make Chanko Nabe, the traditional Sumo Wrestler Soup/Stew, from scratch for me, it was always a lot of fun.

Joining a club or circle can make your study abroad into an experience you will never forget. I strongly recommend you look for a good match."

Training Center

The Training Center is the university gym available to all university students. This facility is equipped with free weights and exercise machines such as stationary bicycles, treadmills and stepmills. Mats, balance balls, and other equipment are also provided in the conditioning room. Training staff are available for personal training advice.
